A BROKEN WINDOW

LOCAL LIBEL CASE

THE GIRL IN THE BATHROOM

Albert Tipton, Chief Engineer of the S.S. "On Lee" sued Yeung Yat Cho, purser of the same ship, at the Summary Court today claiming $1,000 damages for libel contained in a letter dated May 8, 1922 written by defendant by his agent, F. E. Nash, solicitor and addressed to the Sze Yap S. S. Co.

The letter complained of read "I am instructed by Mr. Yeung Yat Cho, the purser of your s.s. 'On Lee' to report to you the improper conduct of Mr. Tipton, Chief Engineer of the said ship who on the evening of the 6th inst. broke the bathroom window in order to look therein while my client's daughter, Mrs. Yeung Ping San, a passenger from Kowloon to Hong Kong, was undressed and having a bath well knowing that my client's daughter was therein, and to request that such conduct be enquired into by your board of directors."

Plaintiff claimed that these words meant that he was deprived and immoral and unfit to be employed as chief engineer on the steamer. Alternatively plaintiff claimed that the words meant that he had been guilty of immoral conduct. Plaintiff had been injured in his reputation and has been held up to public scandal, ridicule and contempt.

The defendant denied publication and that if the words were written they were without malice and in the belief that they were true and on a privileged occasion and the letter was therefore privileged. Comments. The letter was addressed to the Sze Yap S.S. Co. by whom both plaintiff and defendant was employed, with reference to a matter in which the Company and defendant had a common interest. Defendant further said that if the words were written they were true in substance and fact.

Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for plaintiff and Mr. W. B. Hind for defendant. Opening the case Mr. Lo said the facts were very simple. There was on board the s.s. "On Lee" a bathroom which was reserved for officers only. On the evening of May 6 the Chief Officer, who was now Captain of the vessel, overheard a conversation between Mrs. Yeung, the defendant's wife, with the chief officer's boy, whom she told to prepare the bath. The Chief Officer told the boy to explain to Mr. Yeung but she took no notice. The Chief Officer told the carpenter to remove the door of the bathroom so as to prevent it being used by Miss Yeung. The carpenter went to carry out the order but on trying the door found it was locked. He thought he could get into the room through the window. He tried to open the window but felt pressure on it by people inside. He then jumped down and the pressure on the window was released. The window was a sliding one and it fell down, the glass breaking. The carpenter waited for a little time and an amah came out followed by a young girl who was the defendant's daughter. Although the plaintiff's cabin was next to the bathroom he was at the time on the bridge with the Chief Officer. The carpenter would say that the plaintiff was not anywhere near the scene. He asked his Lordship to find that plaintiff had nothing to do with breaking the glass.

On May 15 plaintiff received a letter from the manager of the company enclosing a copy of the letter which had been received from Mr. Nash and asking him to make a report and explanation. This he did and apparently it was accepted by the Company. As regards evidence of publication, Mr. Lo said he would call Mr. Nash to prove that he received instructions through his interpreter to write the letter in question. Before Mr. Nash signed the letter he questioned his clerk Mr. Young closely as to the instructions. He would ask his Lordship to find that the letter was libel per se.

Mr. Lo contended that there was malice said there had been several quarrels between the parties, the defendant having complained that plaintiff had taken three passengers on the ship.

The first witness called was Mr. Nash. There was some argument on the question of privilege regarding instructions.

Mr. Lo, having handed witness the letter asked: Do you, as a man with a decent knowledge of English take those words as meaning plaintiff was depraved, immoral and unfit to be Chief Engineer on the steamer?

Witness: He was immoral and depraved.

His Lordship: And unfit to be Chief Engineer?

Witness: Yes.

Mr. Hind objected to further questions on these lines on the ground

CANTON SITUATION

DEPUTATION TO SUN

MUST HAVE MY REVENGE

A deputation of 25 representatives of various public bodies and associations in Canton, interviewed Dr. Sun Yat-sen at Whampoa on Monday. They were accompanied by Mr. C. C. Wu. The deputation gathered at the Kwong Chai Hospital in the forenoon and left for Whampoa by launch at 3 p.m. They were received on board the cruiser "Wing Fung" by Sun.

Mr. Wu was the spokesman. He explained that although he should not have called while he was in mourning it was his late father's last wish that peace should be restored immediately, hence his presence there. Sun's first question to the deputation was "Who is right and who is wrong in this affair?" No one ventured to answer the question. The deputation asked Sun to pay regard to the peace and order of Canton, and requested him to undertake not to again bombard the City. The City, they said, had suffered enough as it was. It had been looted and damaged to the extent of over a million dollars, this not including "indirect damage." Sun after some discussion agreed not to again fire upon the City.

One of the deputation then asked him to give orders to his gunboats not to seize rice coming up the river for Canton. This request was made because a couple of days previously the "Popak" had seized large quantities of rice which were passing by Whampoa on the way to Canton.

Sun agreed to give the necessary orders.

Asked when he would leave Canton, the delegation explained that they would like to know, so that they could arrange a farewell banquet in his honour, Sun became very indignant. He said "If Ip Kwei can force me to retire, then I will go. But (scoffingly) I can bear his force. I cannot submit to him and am not afraid of him. I undertook the recent bombardment of the City as an expression of my opinion against force. I am a Generalissimo, and they who are mere soldiers, dare to order me to retire. It is ridiculous! If public opinion, and the opinion of those who elected me, is for me to retire, then I can obey orders." He then told the delegation that it need not be afraid of or obey Ip Kwei, and ended up with the remark "If the public can come to an understanding on the matter immediately I may leave within the next few days, but I must not be forced to go." He added as an afterthought "But I must have my revenge on Chan Kwing-ming. If I cannot get it to-day, I will get it to-morrow. If not this year next year, and if not in this life, then in the next. I must fight it out with him to the end." With these remarks he dismissed the delegation.

The Navy is reported to have come to an understanding with Chan's troops with regard to Sun's departure under the following conditions:

- (1) Sun will be accorded the honour of a salute of 21 guns on his departure.
- (2) He will be given $1,000,000 to assist him in the next election.

that the meaning of the words could not be adduced from a witness. His Lordship upheld the objection. "Did you mean to imply that plaintiff was immoral, depraved and unfit to be Chief Engineer?" His Lordship asked.

Witness: I did.

Young Hae, a clerk employed by Mr. Nash, questioned by Mr. Lo, said he was told by Mr. Lo, that the window was broken by the carpenter who went to do something on the instructions of the Chief Officer.

Evidence was also given by the manager of the Sze Yap Co. as to receiving the letter from Mr. Nash. He knew the parties quarrelled in March last year and he gave a dinner and got them to shake hands.

Before plaintiff went into the box Mr. Hind said if Mr. Lo was calling no further evidence of publication he was prepared to argue the question of its sufficiency or otherwise.

His Lordship decided that the case would have to go on.

Plaintiff then went into the box and in cross-examination said he did not break the window. He was on the bridge at the time.

Mr. Hind.

The amah says she saw you hammering on the window. She's not telling the truth?—She's not telling the truth.

The mother says you spoke to the amah and then hammered on the window? Is she telling the truth?—No.

The case is proceeding.

AFTER HOURS

The proprietor of the Kwok Chin Restaurant, No. 70, Canton Road, Yau-mat, was summoned before Mr. B. E. Lindell this morning for having kept the premises open for business during prohibited hours.

Sergeant Murphy visited the place at 1.35 a.m., and found business still going on, and several customers were in the middle of a meal.

Defendant, who pleaded guilty, was fined $20.

The TELEPHONE HANDBOOK has met a want which has long been felt amongst users of the Telephone, as it provides an easy means of ascertaining the name of the Subscriber without the necessity of a search through the ordinary alphabetical directory.

The TELEPHONE HANDBOOK costs $1 per copy and is sold on the strict understanding that on the publication of a new one the old one will be returned to the publishers. This proviso is made in the interests of Subscribers in view of the frequent changes that take place.
